What is a Wet Room?

A wet room is a space that is designed to be fully waterproof - minimising the risk of any leaks.

The main component is a preformed tray with a gradient, which allows the wastewater to flow away naturally. The wet area walls and floor are tanked, which is a system designed to prevent water penetration. It is used in swimming pools, ensuring the room is watertight. By design, wet rooms are open plan which gives the illusion of more space, while the design prevents slips, trips, and falls.

Bathrooms - Cloakrooms

We love wet rooms, but they aren't all we do! We understand everyone has different needs and requirements, and wet rooms aren't necessarily the solution to every room. The great news is that we also install great bathrooms as part of our services, covering all of your bathing solutions.

We can install freestanding baths, straight baths and shower baths. We cover bathrooms, cloakrooms, en suites and all wet room solutions.

Eco-Friendly Bathrooms

There are ways to be eco-friendly when choosing new products for your bathroom or wet room project.

Water Aerators

Most of our taps and brassware come with water-saving aerators, which allow a smooth flow of water and save up to 5/litres of water per minute. There are also retro-fit aerators available.

LED Lighting

LED light can be utilised as downlights in the ceiling or as a spotlight in an alcove for example. A lot of our mirrors that come with light options also use LED lighting.

Dual Fuel Radiators

By powering your radiator electrically as well as through the central heating means you don't have to use central heating to turn it on. This is a great option to save energy.

Read our blog here discussing these options in detail and further ideas.
